

RAIN BARREL PROGRAM WORKSHOP

Tuesday, Sept. 20, 6–8 p.m.

Waymire Dome, Adams County Regional Park
9755 Henderson Rd., Brighton, CO 80601

Do you want to...

- Save money on water?
- Help reduce runoff pollution?
- Protect your home's foundation?

Sustainable Adams County has partnered with CSU Extension to educate Adams County residents on rainwater collection systems. Learn the facts, become familiar with the environmental benefits of rain harvesting, and leave armed with the tools and knowledge to become a successful contributor to conservation in Adams County.

What you'll receive:

- A complete rain barrel system, including a 55-gallon barrel, high-quality brass spigot, and an insect/debris screen
- Information and education on rain barrels, rules and regulations on water collection, and how you can become a conservation hero

REGISTER NOW! ONLY 60 SPOTS AVAILABLE!

Register online at <http://bit.ly/2bV20JT>. The $50 registration fee covers the educational workshop and the free rain barrel kit. This workshop is available for residents of Adams County only.

A limited number of registrations are available; one rain barrel per household will be distributed. You must complete the workshop in order to receive your rain barrel.
